John and Counsel,

I write regarding Mr. Kalanick's recently publicized leave of absence from Uber. Given his relevance to this case, we would like Uber to confirm that it will continue to preserve his documents and that he will be made available for deposition upon notice from Waymo.

Additionally, we have previously discussed missing text messages between Anthony Levandowski and Travis Kalanick. Uber did not make available for inspection text messages sent from Travis Kalanick to Anthony Levandowski. When we discussed this on a meet and confer last week, Ms. Chang said that the vendor did not think that this was a collection issue—meaning that any text messages sent by Travis Kalanick to Anthony Levandowski are no longer on Mr. Kalanick's phone. But, the vendor was going to check this again when it could get access to Mr. Kalanick's phone. While we are mindful of his personal tragedy, can Uber send the vendor to Mr. Kalanick to re-collect all data for his phone for purposes of this litigation?

Thanks,

Andrea
